How's Your Quarantine Going?

By: Grace Guerrero-Garcia

How do you guys feel about no school anymore? Most schools, all over the world have closed, if not all. I feel really sad for our seniors because they were not able to go to their last prom. Most Seniors are bummed out because if all this gets worse they most likely won't have their graduation ceremony. And what about after that – how is this going to affected those who are going to college? So much worry!

So let's just hope all this gets better. Most kids are just bored from all this. For most people it feels like it's been months, but it's actually only been a couple weeks. All you can do is stay home, not unless you still have to go to work, but every once in a while people will go out and do their grocery shopping and maybe even go check up on some family members. This is going to end soon enough, but if you don't know what to do you can start off by doing your work/ homework. You could also clean, but here's a warning, cleaning is never ending. You could also watch some movies, read books, and work out. There are way more things to do, so don't just lay in bed or say, "It's boring, when you could do so many things indoors."

Remember, it's not FOREVER, so enjoy your family during this time since it's not always going to be like this. Before you know it, parents are going to be going back to work, and summer will be here. Enjoy your time with your loved ones. Appreciate your loved ones because you never know what's going to happen tomorrow. But anyways stay safe everyone. Listen to the rules as well, so we can be back to our normal lives soon! Stay home and stay safe.

Do's and Don'ts In Quarantine Jayliana Puakea

Quarantine has affected all of us in different ways. Some people think this may be a positive while others think it's a negative, nevertheless here are the do's and don'ts that you should follow when you end up going out and when you're staying inside.

-1. Don't go outside and play all day or just play on your electronics. Mix things up and do both! But do stay in your house and do your school work on one of your electronics. And if you don't have any then try and do it on paper from memory or ask your parents to teach you things

Lockdown By Ezekiel Majamay

Today, March 25, 2020, is the first day of shelter-in-place in response to the Coronavirus Pandemic. Lockdown was supposed to end on April 7th, but it got extended to May 1st.

So far lockdown is really boring because we still have to do work at home. I hope school isn't extended more because I don't like doing work at home. Since the lockdown is extended, the school will be sending homework packages to your houses, (but I don't think it's graded). So far most schools are doing online school, so kids still get to learn. I think that not all schools are going to be doing online school or sending home work for the kids to do. Not everyone has internet service too.

I don't think school should've been extended another month because that is way too long. This lockdown is pretty much "summertime," but I think that we might not even go back to school because it might be extended again. In my opinion I think that school will be extended again and it would be taking up next school year too, but so far we don't know what's happening. In my opinion I think that school shouldn't get extended and due to COVID-19 all schools worldwide should have been shut down.

Lockdown things you should do to stay safe are, stay home, don't go school, and only one family member leaves the house to do what you need to do. To be safe people should stay away from each other, wear a mask and always wash your hands.

-2. When you go to the store don't touch everything there, only the stuff that you need to grab, and since we're talking about what you need, don't grab more than what you need. Do look at the item you're going to get and touch only that item. Remember only grab what you need so others can have some too.

-3 Do not go out with friends, party or go to places with them. Remember we're on Quarantine. Do stay inside and read a book or do something you enjoy indoors.

And finally, don't get close to anyone you don't know since you could catch the airborne virus. Do stay at least six feet away.
